ARMOUR ON THESTAND

Testifies Before the Packing House Wage Arbitrator in Chicago

QUESTIONED BY COUN-SEL FOR EMPLOYES

Eight-Hour Day Does Not Impress Him Favorably

Chicago., Feb. 19,-J. Ogden Armour, president of the Armour & Co., took the witness stand here yesterday in the packing house investigation for Judge

Mr. Armour was questioned by Frank P. Walsh, attorney for the employes, who are seeking higher wages. Mr. Walsh asked if it was true that if the wages of all Armour workmen were doubled it would increase the price of meat only 65-100 of a cent a pound.

"I could not tell that without some figuring," was the reply. If equal pay for men and women doing the same class and volume of work is not now given, Mr. Armour thought it should be. He said he did not visit the homes of his workers, but that his company had a welfare board. He said of course he was willing to have a decent living wage fixed for Armour employes. He did not think a 10-hour working day in itself would undermine health.

SAYS BRITISH RECRUITING OFFICER KIDNAPED BOYS

Senator Knex Asks State Department to Investigate Pittsburg, Pa., Case.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The state de-partment was asked yesterday to investigate alleged recruiting and spiriting away of three American boys, one as young as 14, from Pittsburg, Saturday night, by a British recruiting officer, Senator Knox announced yesterday in the Senate. If the facts justified, the senator said, he would bring the affair to the attention of the attorney general. The request was made that the boys, who are expected to reach Windser, Nova Scotia, to-day, be returned home. Senator Knox said that when he called Sec retary Lansing's attention to the matter his indignation was equal to my own, "My purpose in bringing this matter Senate," the senator added. "is to call the attention of the foreign recruiting officers in the United States to the fact that the privilege extended to them last summer does not include the kidnaping of children.'
